Citibabes SoHo, the New York City private club for parents and their children, has just made life easier for suburban parents. In March 2009 they will be opening the 9,000-square-foot Citibabes Scarsdale.

Thank Citibabes SoHo owners and young moms Tara Gordon Lipton and Tracey Frost Rensky for dreaming up this family fantasy come true. Imagine being able to have a quiet lunch with friends in the all-organic café while junior is having fun in childcare. Or working out in the full-service gym with a private trainer. What a treat!

All that and more will be available at the brand new Citibabes Scarsdale space at 7 Popham Road in Scarsdale. There's also a huge indoor playground designed by Edwin Schlossberg's eco-friendly firm ESI Design, classes for children, a private birthday party space, a store and parenting support groups and clubs. And if you're just starting your family, don't despair, there's prenatal membership too. Membership is by application only.

See www.citibabes.com/scarsdale.html or call 800-697-0107 for further details.
