

UrbanBaby

TALK

BUZZ

LOCAL

UrbanBaby NEW YORK

Culture Club

March 13, 2009; 10:51 am by UrbanBaby

The words "private club" sound exclusive, but when it comes to kids, all are welcome.

Downtown family club Citibabes is indeed membership based, but some of its happenings are open to the public — including a new in-house boutique that carries everything from infant and toddler clothing to books, eco-friendly toys, games and gift sets. The small, sleek shop offers an edited collection from brands like Neige, Marie Chantal, Birdcage Press and BabySilk. Plus, hand delivery in Manhattan and worldwide shipping means you'll never miss your favorite little one's birthday.

Speaking of delivery, check out the club's To Go program that brings its signature services, like themed birthday parties, kid-friendly catering and educational parent workshops, to your doorstep.

Now you feel included.

52 Mercer St., 212-334-5440, citibabes.com.

POSTED IN: Classes, Shopping

TAGS: citibabes