Private clubs aren't really that cool anymore. The secret passwords, code names and the annual dues are just over, especially in this economy. So that's why the fantastic Citibabes Boutique in Soho has opened its doors to all. Citibabes is an expert on what ultra-busy families need most. This go-to spot offers children of all ages the opportunity to take exciting, age-appropriate classes where they can play, learn and socialize while parents, extended family, and caregivers benefit from workshops, workouts and superb spa services. So everybody wins.

Their in-club boutique has become a popular one-stop-shop for anything from infant and toddler clothing to books to eco-friendly toys and games. And if you're short on time, make sure to stay on top as the model baby shower gift-giver and use Citibabes fantastic pre-made gift sets as presents. What? It's not like you enjoy losing your edge. Rest assured, that with Citibabes, you won't.
